Bio

Angie Nga Le is a visiting postdoctoral associate in the Department of Public Policy and Administration, Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs, Florida International University (FIU). Le received her Ph.D. degree in Public Affairs from FIU and her master's degree in Development Policy from the KDI School of Public Policy and Management in South Korea. Le also obtained the Certificate in University Teaching and Learning from the Center for Advancement of Teaching at FIU.

Le's research and teaching specializations are in public administration, public policy, and public finance. This includes topics such as intergovernmental grant policy, fiscal federalism, and public school finance. Her publication has appeared in Public Performance and Management Review. She has presented her research at the annual meetings of the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA), the Association for Budgeting and Financial Management (ABFM), the Association for Education Finance and Policy (AEFP), and the Southeastern Conference for Public Administration (SECoPA).

Le has worked as a researcher for the Truth and Integrity in Government Finance project – a Volker Alliance's study on state fiscal practices. She previously served as a researcher for the Vietnamese Government's Ministry of Planning and Investment. She assisted the International Labor Organization's research team in developing Vietnam's National Employment Strategy and was actively involved in the Vietnam National Assembly's project that aimed to improve public budgetary and financial supervision at central and provincial levels. Le participated in numerous non-profit organizations' projects on issues such as poverty reduction, disaster risk management, land rights, livelihood improvement, social entrepreneurship, and budget participation and transparency.

Le has been an instructor and teaching assistant at FIU in graduate and undergraduate courses, such as Applied Research Methods for Policy & Management, Financial Management in Public and Non-Profit Organization, and Integrative Seminar in Public Policy & Service.

Le has received several awards, including Diverse's 2022 Rising Graduate Scholars, FIU Doctoral Evidence Acquisition Fellowship, FIU Dissertation Year Fellowship, Akira Nakamura Award for the Best Paper in 2020 Asian Association for Public Administration Conference, KDI School Dean's List, and KDI Global Ambassador Scholarship.
