

Women have higher graduation rates than men across all ethnic groups.

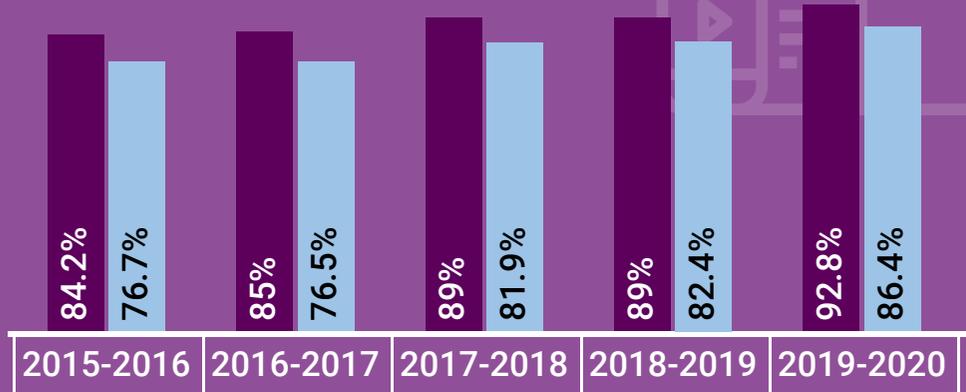

Women had a lower high school dropout rate (2.7 percent) than men (4.6 percent). Dropout rates have declined over the last five years.

Black/African American men and women had the highest dropout rates, 5.6 and 3.2 percent respectively

Miami-Dade County Public Schools High School

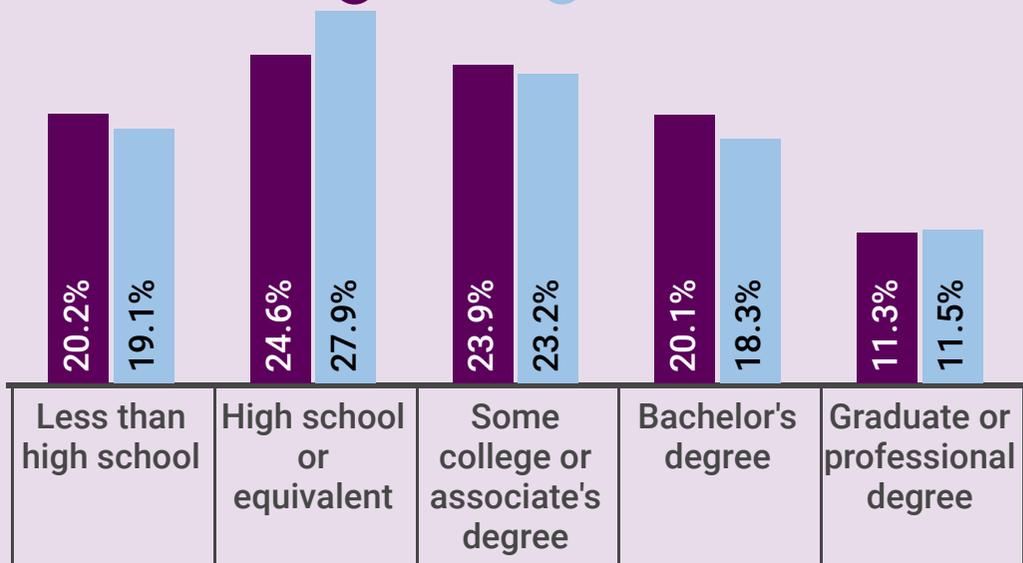

Graduation Rates

● Women ● Men

Degree Attainment in Miami-Dade County, 2019

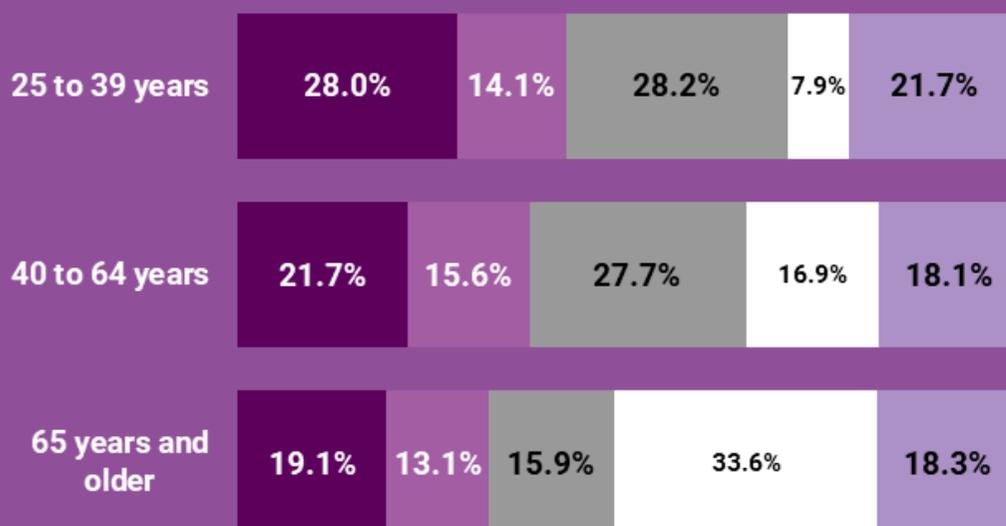

● Women ● Men

- Overall, a higher percentage of women have university degrees than men.
- A significantly higher proportion of younger women are attaining degrees in science and engineering each year.
- At FIU, women outnumbered men in degree attainment for all colleges except the College of Engineering and Computing in the 2020-2021 academic year.

Types of Degrees for women by Age Groups, 2019

■ Science and Engineering ■ Science, Engineering, and Related
■ Business ■ Education
■ Arts, Humanities, and Others

Women are more likely than men to pursue post-secondary education

