Impact of Coronavirus on South Florida's Top Ten Industry Sectors

According to the Federal Reserve, about 40% of Americans would struggle with an unexpected bill of $400. The tourism centric, low-wage economy in South Florida is heavily dependent on hourly workers and service sector industries. With the closure of establishments, the impact of coronavirus (COVID-19) on the South Florida economy could be catastrophic as the rate of unemployment is predicted to rise over the coming weeks.
